

Conservatives find Hitler repugnant because of his contempt for free enterprise, and tyrannical suppression of the Judeo-Christian heritage; Liberals find Hitler abhorrent because of his racism, and suppression of democratic values.

Ronald Reagan in a letter to Richard Nixon about John Kennedy, 1960:

Shouldn't someone tag Mr. Kennedy's "bold new imaginative" program with its proper age? There is nothing new in the idea of a government being Big Brother to us all. Hitler called his "State Socialism" and way before him it was "benevolent monarchy."

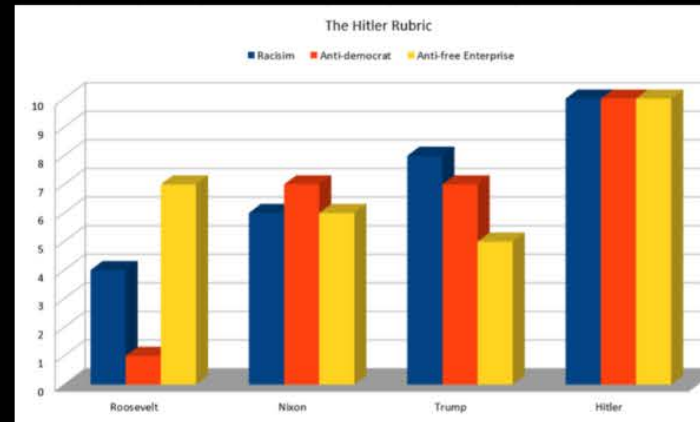

Franklin Roosevelt in Lyndon Johnson's memoirs referring to Joe Kennedy, John's father:

"He's a traitor! He likes Hitler!"

The Hitler Rubric: A CONSENSUAL WAY TO EVALUATE AMERICAN POLITICS

ROOSEVELT NIXON TRUMP

Hitler, the Nazi leader is seen as a horrible person by most, if not all Americans. Therefore, if one wants to really pull an American leader into the mud, one can compare him to Adolf Hitler.

My approach is consensual in an age where Americans are polarized. Both sides disavow Hitler. Their fundamental consensus is in disclaiming him. Thus, we have a starting point for a new way to evaluate American politics. We carefully compare a candidate with Hitler. The most consensual, apt, pro-American candidates will have the lowest scores on the Hitler Rubric.
