This syllabus serves as the documentation for all course policies and requirements, assignments, and instructor/student responsibilities.

Information relative to the delivery of the content contained in this syllabus is subject to change. Should that happen, the student will be notified.

Course Description

An enriched, integrated pre-service course and content experience that provides active recruitment and institutional support of students interested in a teaching career, especially in high need fields. The course provides students with opportunities to participate in early field observations at all levels of P-12 schools with varied and diverse student populations and provides students with support from college and school faculty, preferably in small cohort groups, for the purpose of introduction to and analysis of the culture of schooling and classrooms. Course content should be aligned as applicable with State Board for Educator Certification Pedagogy and Professional Responsibilities standards; and the course must include a minimum of 16 contact hours of field experience in P-12 classrooms.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

- 1.Identify current issues influencing the field of education and teacher professional development.
- 2. Analyze the culture of schooling and classrooms from the perspectives of language, gender, socioeconomic, ethnic, and disability-based academic diversity and equity.
- 3. Provide examples from classroom observations and course activities that demonstrate understanding of educational pedagogy and professional responsibilities of teachers.
- 4. Evaluate personal motivations, educational philosophies, and factors related to educational career decision making.
- 5.Recognize the various multiple intelligences/learning styles in order to be able to implement instructional practices that meet the needs of all students

Course Structure and Overview:

This is an online course. All instruction is completed via the Blackboard learning management system. Please begin the class by reviewing all information in the Start Here folder on the homepage. All assignments are accessed on the homepage.

You are expected to log in and complete all activities weekly. Expect to spend 4 to 6 hours per week completing course activities.

The course is divided into 16 weeks on the homepage. You are expected to complete all assignments for each week by the due date.

Weekly assignments are accessed by clicking on the link for the week. Each week, three folders will be available; the Warm-up Folder, the Remember, Understand Analyze and Apply Folder, and the Create and Evaluate Folder. These three folders contain instructions and templates for the weekly assignments.

Weekly activities and assignments begin with a viewing a video in the Warm-Up Folder. Subsequent activities found in the include chapter reading and study, videos, a video discussion board, and a two-paragraph chapter reflection which are to be completed by Sunday evening.

Weekly assignments should be completed in the order presented in the folders. See the attached calendar for due dates. There is a penalty for late work, and work is not accepted more than one week after the due date.

Technical difficulties are not an excuse for late work. High-speed internet access, Microsoft Word, are minimum technology requirements.

Information for other assignments is located in the Field-Based Experience Folder and the Lesson Presentation Folder.

Course Requirements:

Weekly participation in course activities and assignments.

16 hours of observation in a public-school setting and two PowerPoint presentations on the observations.

Development of a lesson plan demonstrating an understanding of educational pedagogy and professional responsibilities of teachers.

Development of a Philosophy of Education Essay demonstrating personal motivation and educational philosophy.

Communications:

Communicate through NTCC email. Responses to emails will be made Monday-Thursday mornings.

Institutional/Course Policy:

Attendance in an online class is determined by weekly participation in the Blackboard learning management system and the completion of assignments.

Students are expected to participate in class activities and complete all assignments each week, including discussion boards. Assignments should be completed by due dates.

Should an emergency situation arise, (death in the family, serious injury, hospitalization, accidents, etc.) the instructor must be contacted within a week. Arrangements for missed work, etc. will be determined on a case by case basis.

NTCC Academic Honesty/Ethics Statement:

NTCC upholds the highest standards of academic integrity. The college expects all students to engage in their academic pursuits in an honest manner that is beyond reproach using their intellect and resources designated as allowable by the course instructor. Students are responsible for addressing questions about allowable resources with the course instructor. Academic dishonesty such as cheating, plagiarism, and collusion is unacceptable and may result in disciplinary action. This course will follow the NTCC Academic Honesty and Academic Ethics policies stated in the Student Handbook. Refer to the student handbook for more information on these subjects.

ADA Statement:

It is the policy of NTCC to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals who are students with disabilities. This College will adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations as required to afford equal educational opportunity. It is the student's responsibility to request accommodations. An appointment can be made with the Academic Advisor/Coordinator of Special Populations located in Student Services and can be reached at 903-434-8264. For more information and to obtain a copy of the Request for Accommodations, please refer to the special populations page on the NTCC website.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA):

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children's educational records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are considered "eligible students." In essence, a parent has no legal right to obtain information concerning the child's college records without the written consent of the student. In compliance with FERPA, information classified as "directory information" may be released to the general public without the written consent of the student unless the student makes a request in writing. Directory information is defined as: the student's name, permanent address and/or local address, telephone listing, dates of attendance, most recent previous education institution attended, other information including major, field of study, degrees, awards received, and participation in officially recognized activities/sports.
