Course Structure and Overview:

Course Assignments

- You register your Connect access code to read the text and do most of the assignments in this course. The instructions are in this folder.
- This course is set up in modules. Each module, except for the introduction, centers around the essay type. Assignments in the modules have due dates and are meant to be done in the order that they appear.
- The SmartBook (SB) reading assignments and questions are graded, and they count for part your average for this course. The questions are based on your knowledge of the text, so it is best to read before you try to answer the questions to avoid receiving additional questions.
- The adaptive learning assignments are also counted toward your average. Again, the number of questions you receive is based on how well you answer the questions.
- You will have one discussion in each module. You will submit an original post and three peer responses. The discussions are meant to help you find a topic for your essay.
- You will have four writing assignments and each assignment will include a rough draft, two peer reviews, and final draft. The last research essay final draft is weighted heavier than the first three essays, but all essays count for a large part of your grade, so it is important to complete each one.
- All essays are graded using a content rubric. The rubric is located within the instructions for the essay assignment. It is strongly advised that students become familiar with the rubric criteria before embarking on the writing portion of the assignment.

Communications:

Conscientious and timely completion of assignments is essential for success in this writing course. The assignments and due dates are in the syllabus, in the printable assignment calendar and on the Blackboard Course Calendar link. You can also view assignment reminders under the Bulletins and Announcements button.

Assignments are graded and returned within 72 hours. Essays are graded within one week following the due date with the exception of the final exam which is graded more promptly in order to accommodate the Registrar's guidelines and the campus policies. All papers must be typed in MLA format, saved as .doc, .docx, or .rtf (rich text format) and submitted as attachments. See learning modules for reading assignments, adaptive learning assignments, discussions, and writing assignments. Specific instructions for each essay are posted in the learning modules. All due dates are posted on the course calendar.

You are required to check your NTCC no less than every other day. This is the formal communication method for this course. Messages sent via Blackboard or personal email addresses will not be answered. You are required to download and use TEAMS for class communication and announcements. I highly suggest you maintain NTCC email and TEAMS on an mobile device or phone you regularly use.

Institutional/Course Policy:

Late Work Policy

This course carries a no late policy. All assignments are due at midnight on the due date. Please submit assignments on time to receive full credit. "Assignments" refer to all work that is submitted to the instructor. Students are to submit assignments on or before the stated due date/time. Students must also retain a copy of all pieces of their assignments, which must be produced if requested. Writing assignments (rough drafts and final drafts) submitted after the due date/time will only be accepted at the instructor's discretion and will incur a 10% deduction (per day) of the original grade for the first three days unless the student has been granted an extension due to extenuating circumstances. All request for extensions due to extenuating circumstances must be sent via NTCC email to the instructor BEFORE the assignment due date. No course credit is allowed after the three-day period.

Discussion assignments will not be accepted late.

Please note that the SB and homework assignments have a window that closes once the due date has passed and this window can only be reopened by the instructor.

Attendance and Participation Policy

A hybrid writing class requires consistent engagement. You should plan to attend class when we meet weekly and log on to the online course every day.

Failure to participate in course activities, complete required readings, and turn in work will lower your course grade. If you do not log in regularly and meet deadlines, you may not receive credit for this course. You are to check your NTCC email account daily, which will be the official form of communication for this course. Your email address is your first initial + your last name + the last three digits of your SSN. Your password is your birthday in the form of mmddyyyy (Ex: May 8, 1992 would be 05081992). You have the option to change your password once you have logged in.

Once you log in to the course and submit your syllabus acknowledgment, you are considered in attendance, and the instructor will certify that you are part of the class. If you decide that you cannot complete the course, it is your responsibility to drop or withdraw with the registrar's office. Failure to do so will result in receiving a poor performance grade, usually a grade of "F."

You may drop the class prior to the official reporting day (twelfth day - regular semester; fourth day - summer term). In this case, the class will not appear anywhere on your transcript. You can withdraw from the class after the official reporting date and before the last posted date of withdrawal, and a "W" will be recorded on your transcript. The instructor will not drop or withdraw you from this course, even if you are not actively participating or logging in regularly. It is your responsibility to drop a course or withdraw from the college.

Alternate Operations During Campus Closure and/or Alternate Course Delivery Requirements:

In the event of an emergency or announced campus closure due to a natural disaster or pandemic, it may be necessary for Northeast Texas Community College to move to altered operations. During this time, Northeast Texas Community College may opt to continue delivery of instruction through methods that include, but are not limited to, online through the Blackboard Learning Management System, online conferencing, email messaging, and/or an alternate schedule. It is the responsibility of the student to monitor NTCC's website (<http://www.ntcc.edu/>) for instructions about continuing courses remotely, Blackboard for each class for course-specific communication, and NTCC email for important general information.

Additionally, there may be instances where a course may not be able to be continued in the same delivery format as it originates (face-to-face, fully online, live remote, or hybrid). Should this be the case, every effort will be made to continue instruction in an alternative delivery format. Students will be informed of any changes of this nature through email messaging and/or the Blackboard course site.

NTCC Academic Honesty/Ethics Statement:

NTCC upholds the highest standards of academic integrity. The college expects all students to engage in their academic pursuits in an honest manner that is beyond reproach using their intellect and resources designated as allowable by the course instructor. Students are responsible for addressing questions about allowable resources with the course instructor. Academic dishonesty such as cheating, plagiarism, and collusion is unacceptable and may result in disciplinary action. This course will follow the NTCC Academic Honesty and Academic Ethics policies stated in the Student Handbook. Refer to the student handbook for more information on these subjects.

ADA Statement:

It is the policy of NTCC to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals who are students with disabilities. This College will adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations as required to afford equal educational opportunity. It is the student's responsibility to request accommodations. An appointment can be made with the Academic Advisor/Coordinator of Special Populations located in Student Services and can be reached at 903-434-8264. For more information and to obtain a copy of the Request for Accommodations, please refer to the special populations page on the NTCC website.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA):

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children's educational records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are considered "eligible students." In essence, a parent has no legal right to obtain information concerning the child's college records without the written consent of the student. In compliance with FERPA, information classified as "directory information" may be released to the general public without the written consent of the student unless the student makes a request in writing. Directory information is defined as: the student's name, permanent address and/or local address, telephone listing, dates of attendance, most recent previous education institution attended, other information including major, field of study, degrees, awards received, and participation in officially recognized activities/sports
